School Tax Law-Important De-

On Tuesday, the 14th inst., the Supreme Court of the Territory rendered an interesting and important decision, involving the constitutionality and validity of the legislation peculiar to this locality. At the last session of the Legislature, that body passed a law, ostensibly for taxation to erect school houses, but so loose and rague in its tenor as to justify any iniquity in the shape of taxation. In another column we print sections 1, 2 and 3 of this act, which present the salient and objectionable features of the laws Under these sections, last Spring, a ward meeting was held at which the enormous tax of upon the "taxable property of the 13th ward," for the purpose of building an appendage "to the 13th ward" Assembly Rooms. Or this assessment the so called Gentile merchants were assessed apwards of $8,000, and suit brought in the Probate Court to collect it. Eighteen or twenty of the merchants believing the law erroneous, oppressive and unconstitutional, resisted and concluded to test the matter. To this end a bill in chancery was filed-Kerr vs. the School Trustees, in the Supreme Court, and an injunction asked for.

We have read a copy of this would like to publish it. We may say beyever that to the unprofessional eye the following seem to be the main points set forth: ADIAT TELTOL

That the law is unconstitutional, and void, in that it takes private property without just or any compensation. That the officers under it, are not to be sworn, or to live August. That no mode of nisks is provided for. That there is no limit as to the amount of taxation which may be imposed That the Legislature delegated a part of its legislative power, which Treamnor do under the Or. gonie set: That for the protecthere is none of the usual machinery of a tax law, or of the securities which Government must throw around the citizen for security before it under akes summarily acy of freedom and the common good to disposess him of his property, and the whole act is so loose as to possess none of the requisites of a Valid Tax law .- In addition to this it is alleged (what seems to be inevitable under such a law) that the assessment was unequal unjust and oppressive, and instances of such inequality were presented in the Bill.

> The case came on to be heard last Monday before the full Bench of the Supreme Court, Judges Tius, Drake and McCurdy present. Messra. Hempstead and Thur. mond appeared for the defence, Mr. Snow for the Trustees. The case was argued at great length on Monday by Messrs. Hempstead and Snew, pro and con, and by Mr. Thurmond on Friday, every point being reviewed and commented on by the lawyers. At the conclusion of the argument Chief Justice Titus rendered the unanimous delivery of the Court, granting the injunctions prayed for-until November, 1866-the next term of the Supreme-Court.

This case presents to the Utah Legislators a very gentle hint that in the enactment of laws, they must pursue the usual course of other governments and keep themselves within the bounds prescribed by the Constitution, and required where free republican institutions exist. Oppression and injustice under the forms of law, but against the spirit of our free institutions are the very worst and most dangerous species of despotism. When Legislators overstep these bounds, the courts even away out in Utah, it seems, will okep in for the protection of the citizen-Jew, Gentile, Saint or unbeliever-and maintain his Brigham's servile mouthpieces, the News and Telegraph, who prate so much of lovalty and good citizenship being obedience to the call of the tax gatherer, would do well to devote a little of their space to legislators in the enactment of tax l.w. Good citizens and loval men. (and among such the gentile merchants of Salt Lake stand proudly pre-eminent if not alone,) are always ready to bear a just portion by parties who, as soon as found, will of the burthens of government in the shape of taxes. But, as g od citizens are always bound to do, they will respect their own rights and resist in every legal way the imposition of unjust laxation for the purpose of building meeting houses, even though imposed under the specious guise of support- five dellars a head, twenty-five pounds ing schools and dance rooms for the purpose of propping up old Bishop Woolley's tottering meeting house in the 13th Ward. Put that in your pipes and smoke ittill you're sick ?
